

No One Survived

by Moishe Miller, on behalf of the Jewish Genealogical Society of Brooklyn (JGSoB)

No one survived. That is what Mr. Motel Zand, my wife's late grandfather and former resident of Lodz, Poland, related regarding his siblings, parents and grandparents. And then there was even no memory left of his family – it died with him in 1995. There were no pictures and certainly no stories. He never talked about the war or his family.

Fast forward to the end of 2016. Avotaynu's Nu? What's New? released Vol. 17, No. 39 – October 2, 2016. The e-zine had a paragraph entitled Lodz Registration Cards Online, accessible via JRI-Poland. Going through those records led me to check once again all online sources for ZAND. Those standard sources included JewishGen, Ancestry, FamilySearch, YadVashem, and the USHMM. That is how I found her, on Sunday, January 8th, 2017. There was a USHMM website listing for one of Mr. Zand's siblings, along with a picture. Supposedly. Her name was Chaja Hena (Heltcha) Zand and she died of TB in the Lodz Ghetto Hospital on March 22nd, 1943, just 12 days after her 21st birthday. The USHMM database had an entry source called a PROTOKOLL (and Protocol) and the detail included that a photo was available.

This article will describe the timeline and the steps I took for obtaining such a picture.

To begin with, keep in mind that not everyone in the Lodz Ghetto had a Protocol. There are only 13,210 Protocol pages and the ghetto saw over 200,000 victims pass through. Also, be patient. The total time trying to obtain a picture the first time took two months.

How do you start? Access the webpage for the United States Holocaust Memorial Museum Holocaust Survivors and Victims Database. This link is currently at:

https://www.ushmm.org/online/hsv/person_advantage_search.php

nce_search.php

From the form, enter the detail you might know. Be sure to utilize the Search within Name Lists option and enter 37949 in the Source ID box. This is the Source ID for the Protocol records.

From the Search form, enter all the information you are using for search criteria and then click on the screen's SEARCH button.

- Last Name: Zand
- First Name: Chaja Hena
- SEARCH WITHIN NAME LISTS: 37949

The resulting page does yield one hit and by clicking on her name, you can bring up the extracted information screen for Chaja Hena Zand's Protocol detail.

Displaying 1–2 of 2 matches for SEARCH WITHIN COLLECTION: 37949;
 LAST NAME: ZAND; ACCURACY: EXACT; FIRST NAME: LAJA; ACCURACY: EXACT

1. Zand, Łaja
 - Source: [PROTOKOLL]

2. Zand, Chaja Hena
 - Birth date: 10 Mar 1922
 - Birth place: Lodsch
 - Source: [PROTOKOLL]

It is important to note that not every result from this collection will yield a form with a picture. If you just search with the Source ID, the website result indicates 33,224 matches. Yet the USHMM website at https://www.ushmm.org/online/hsv/source_view.php?SourceId=37949 indicates there are only 13,210 pages. Which is it? To understand what is actually available, and to avoid false hopes of a picture, it is necessary to understand what the resulting matches mean. When the indexers extracted the data on these Protocols, they extracted and indexed all names. In the case of Chaja Hena Zand, there is mention of her mother Laja, on her Protocol form. That means that searching for Laja Zand within Source ID 37949 will yield a result, as Laja's name was indexed. In fact, it will yield TWO results:

- One for the primary reference of Laja, as she is mentioned in Chaja Hena's Protocol
- One for the secondary reference, as it pertains to Chaja Hena, where Laja is mentioned as her mother and a signatory on the form

It is possible to determine, just from the result set, if there will be a picture. That is because of the level of detail available for the actual Protocol petitioner (the primary person) versus non-primary individuals mentioned on the Protocol.

Each individual in the USHMM has an associated PersonID. Laja's is 6627555. Chaja Hena's is 6627553.

Performing a search for Laja Zand yields a screen like this:

Result #1 (Laja) only shows one bullet point. Result #2 (Chaja Hena) shows three bullet points (i.e.: more detail).

An attachment came with the email. At last! A picture! Some remembrance of the greater Zand family. I quickly downloaded the file named RG-15_083M_0199_00000457 - a jpg image file.

I am not sure what I was expecting, but it was not this. It looked like a long form with fields for ghetto inmates to complete. A square near the bottom looked like a picture. Focusing on the square, I tried blowing it up. It was still a very shadowy image. I was very disappointed. I reached out to several older family members that I knew had been in the ghetto and all the responses were the same: "the picture is too dark

Dear Museum,

Please thank Trevor Culley for sending to me the document for Chaja Hena Zand of Lodz, Poland from https://www.ushmm.org/online/hsv/source_view.php?SourceId=37949 on Mon, Jan 16, 2017 8:03 pm.

The picture that was part of the response is just a shadow. Is there any way to get a hi-res copy of the original photo? Our family has no pictures at all of her.

On Monday, February 6th, 2017, I sent another email to the USHMM, making sure to note the USHMM PersonId in the subject line as "PersonId=6627553".

Two day later, on Wednesday morning, February 8th, 2017, I received a response from the Holocaust Survivors and Victims Resource Center.

Using Google Translate I wrote an email to the recommended contact in Lodz, in both Polish and English, attaching a copy of the USHMM email and the microfilmed Protocol. I sent that request on Friday morning, February

The letter attached to their email was entirely in Polish. It gave detail on the cost and the method of making payment. The total cost was three Euro. The letter also specified that the payment needed to be a wire transfer via SWIFT.

At each step of the process, the entity involved used their own special reference, in the email subject line, in order to track the process. For the USHMM it was the PersonId=6627553.

Subject: OII.6344.127.2017 From: "Kancelaria" <kancelaria@lodz.ap.gov.pl> Date: Thu, Mar 02, 2017 6:31 am Attach: image001.jpg image002.jpg skanowanie1706.jpg Pismo w załączeniu.  Kancelaria Plac Wolności 1 91-415 Łódź tel. 42 632 62 01 w. 12 lub 18 kancelaria@lodz.ap.gov.pl

For the Lodz archive, it was also the subject line: OII.6344.127.2017. In fact, this letter/number set is critical, as it is the same reference required by the banks to advise the archive on where to apply the payment. The wire transfer refers to this information as the Beneficiary Reference.

That same day I reached out to my bank (Cross River Bank, based in New Jersey). They were easy to work with regarding help with a wire transfer. They explained to me that the instructions required that the wire transfer be done through the archive's bank SWIFT account in Warsaw and then onward to the archive account in Lodz. To accommodate that, the bank required the address associated with the Warsaw Bank's SWIFT account. A website (at the time of this writing) actually offers SWIFT account lookups for bank addresses in Poland at:

<https://www.theswiftcodes.com/poland/nbplplpw/>

The bank transmitted the wire for me the next day, Friday, after I completed and signed their special wire transfer form. Part of their compliance process had them do a separate phone call to the number on file for my account to verify and authorize the transaction. Be prepared to take calls and check your voicemails that day in case your bank has a similar process. The bank followed up on the next business day to confirm the wire had taken place. They supplied a very long number called a Wire Tracking Number. This was Monday, March 6th, 2017. The 3 Euros converted to $3.33 USD.

I followed up with another Polish/English email to the Lodz archive, still using the special reference in the subject line. I advised I had wired the payment. I mentioned the Wire Tracking Number. There was no response from the archive. Thinking the email may have gone to spam,, I sent another email without any banking detail, still in Polish/English, inquiring about receipt of payment. That email was sent on Wednesday, March 8th, 2017.

On that Friday morning, March 10th, 2017, the birthday of Chaja Hena, I found an email in my inbox from the Lodz Archives. It had a large 6mb attachment. I quickly downloaded the attachment, not knowing what to expect. I opened it and there it was: a rich color picture of almost 19-year old Chaja Hena Zand, taken about a year after she was forced into the Ghetto.

I followed up with a thank you email to the archives.

With gratitude,
Moishe Miller

Drogi Doktor Maciej Janik,

Dziękuję bardzo za to zdjęcie. W rodzinie jest jeszcze jeden ocalały z getta łódzkiego w okresie Holokaustu. Nie widziała obraz Chaja Heny od 22 marca 1943 roku, kiedy zmarła w getcie łódzkim szpitalu na gruźlicę. Niech was B-óg błogosławi za swoje wysiłki.

It is the hope of our Society, that by sharing this process, others will find it easier to obtain these pictures, and do so in a more expeditious manner. Perhaps you know of a Lodz Ghetto survivor that is still alive. A simple

Dear Doctor Maciej Janik,
 Thank you so very much for this photo. In the family, there is still one survivor from the Lodz Ghetto during the period of the Holocaust. She has not seen a picture of Chaja Hena since March 22, 1943 when she died in Lodz Ghetto Hospital of tuberculosis. May G-d bless you for your effort.

search at the USHMM website can help someone still “see” a loved one. Someone for whom no picture exists. That no one has seen in over 75 years. The second time that I followed these steps the entire process took only 2 weeks. There are 13,210 chances that our community can still help someone.

Instant Document Delivery Service

Those emails described some improvements to the USHMM service implemented in June of this year. There is now an Instant Document Delivery service. After submission of the online form, the service will retrieve and send the requested document instantly to your email.

The online form that has the person ID populated is the new version of the service. When this article was authored, it reflected the system as it existed in January and March of 2017. At that time, the USHMM did not have that online form (the one now incorporated into this article). The difference is that in January, a contractor worked only one day a week to fill the requests. Now, you will receive the document instantly.
